DECATUR, ILLINOIS:
Wednesday, Evening May 19.

The Chicago Times, very truthfully for a former adherent of the "putrid reminiscence," remarks: "There is no cohesive force in the Democratic party, except that of plunder; it is a party of contradictions."

The "cold air cylinder," as Prof. Tice would call it, which struck this region on Saturday night, reached the last twenty-four hours later. Ice formed as far south as the latitude of Washington, Sunday night.

The New Hampshire legislature meets June 2d, and, in addition to its ordinary duties, will be called on to select a Governor. There is but little doubt but that the Republican candidate at the late election will be chosen, as the Republicans have a majority of ten in the house and hold even power in the Senate. There are a score or so of contested seats, though, and the rights of parties to these will have first to be decided.

LAWRENCE, the silk smuggler, who carried on his rascalties so successfully for several years, is now safely lodged in Ludlow-street jail, New York, and will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. His frauds were committed by smuggling large invoices of silk through the custom house, and paying only the rates of duty to which hosiery and other cotton goods are subject. The difference between the duties which should have been paid and those which were paid is estimated at $1,336,400, and suit has been brought against Lawrence for this amount in the United States District Court. The chances are that he will not only be compelled to disgorge his plunder, but to spend most of the remainder of his life in the State's prison, where he will have ample time to ponder on the adage that "honesty is the best policy."

The St. Louis Republic thinks the recent speech of Jeff. Davis to a body of Mexican war veterans, at Houston, Texas, where he is reported to have "exhorted his hearers to be, now, as loyal to the stars and stripes as they had been zealous and heroic in the defense of their first flag," evidence that "the last remaining vestiges of the spirit of the southern confederacy may be said to have died out." In the opinion of the Republic, the only rebellious elements now to be found in the country are those represented by such men as "Senator Morton, of Indiana, and Senator Logan, of Illinois." But there is nothing new or surprising in this, as the Republic thought the same while the war was in progress.

WHAT the Republican party needs now, more than all else, is thorough, systematic organization—organization to extend to every district in the nation. The Republican party is really no weaker than at any former time in its history, but it has allowed itself to grow careless of its organization, and has allowed its strength to be divided and frittered away upon local issues, and questions of local importance only. But as the great contest of 1876 approaches, when the issue will be again plainly presented as to whether the national government is to be entrusted to the Democratic party or to remain in the hands of the party of the Union, all these local issues must be put aside and the lines of party allegiance be closely drawn again. This is demanded by the best interests of the country, and the sooner that the work of concentration and organization begins, the better it will be. The Democratic party will go into the contest for the next Presidential election with more hope than it has done for years. Its victories last fall have given it new life, and it will fight with an energy that can only be incited by hope, and it is useless to deny that there is some ground for this hope. Republicans will be best prepared for doing their duty and their whole duty, by recognizing the real situation. With thorough organization and an earnest canvass, Republicanism has nothing to fear, but without these, the Democratic party will be restored to power in 1876. We do not anticipate a Democratic restoration, because we believe that when the time for action comes, the Republicans will rally to their old standard with old time enthusiasm, and that whatever may be necessary in the line of work, will be cheerfully and freely done.—Bloomington Herald.

THE Indian chiefs, who have arrived at Washington, express a willingness to sell out their claim to the Black Hills reservation, but have not yet set their price. If those hills are full of gold, the Indians probably know it, and will want a corresponding price. If they are not, the Indians know that and will probably sell out pretty cheap.

Mules for Sale.—Any persons wishing to buy nice three and four years old mules, will consult their interests by calling at the Livery Stable of Caldwell Brothers, on West Main street, Decatur, Ill. 20-13 d&wtf.

THE WAY THEY SHOW THEIR LOYALTY.

From the Chicago Inter Ocean.
A letter from Mobile, Ala., 5th inst., to the Memphis Appeal, says: "The support of C. B. Bryan, of Memphis, and Miss Anna Semmes, of this city, were celebrated here to-day, at the residence of the bride's father, Admiral Raphael Semmes, the renowned commander of the late war-ship Alabama. The rites were solemnized by the Right Rev. Bishop Quinlan, at 12 o'clock noon, in the presence of relatives and a small circle of friends. Suspended from one side of the bridal hall to the other was the large, rich, and magnificent Confederate flag, of the finest material and most exquisitely embroidered, which was made and presented to Admiral Semmes by the ladies of London, while commanding the Alabama. Beneath this solemn, beautiful, and historic emblem, the marriage vows were taken.—Exchange.

We commend the above paragraph to the attention of Democrats who assert that the Southern people are loyal. We commend it to milk-and-water Republicans who affect to believe that the South has been treated too harshly by the General Government in the matter of reconstruction. We commend it to that clergyman of Chicago who recently spent a couple of weeks at the South and came home and preached a sermon consisting of equal parts of maudlin sentimentality about the outrages of carpet-bag rule and of sycophantic eulogy of Southern "devotion to the flag" and ardent longings for peace. We commend it to the Chicago Tribune, which prints the letters of Southern Republicans warning the country of an impending rebellion, only to sneer at them and avow that it has no respect for the writers or their sentiments. We commend it to all those citizens who dream of safety from new complications in the abandonment of the country to the rule of the Democratic party, which party is bound hand and foot, by the Davises and Semmeses of the old Confederate Government.

The "flag" to which the South feels ardent devotion is the Confederate flag. It is the flag which represents recollections of treason and rebellion, that stirs the hearts of the Southern people. Every White League association at the South treasures one of these flags. When it dares, the folds of this reminiscence of the rebellion are thrown to the breeze; when it dares not, the flag is hidden away and worshipped in secret. "Beneath this solemn, beautiful, and historic emblem, the marriage vows were taken."

There can be no loyalty at the South while these treasonable mummeries continue. The rites of marriage and burial are the most sacred observances known to a people. If, at these ceremonies, the Southern people feel impelled to invoke the presence of a flag of the defunct Confederacy, it is a logical and just conclusion that they prefer that flag to all others. Their allegiance is, then, still given to the Confederacy, and not to the Union.

HOW GEN. TRACY APOLOGIZED TO THE WOODHULL.

From the New York Sun, 18th.

The narrative of Mrs. Woodhull's movements before going into court, and while the proceedings were hindered by her absence, is as follows: Having the subpoena served on her by Mr. Beecher's lawyers on Tuesday, and also numerous letters received from Theodore Tilton and others connected with the scandal, she went to Brooklyn early in the morning, and was received in Mr. Beecher's consultation-room, at Montague and Court streets, by Mr. Shearman and General Tracy. She was not in an amiable mood, and when Mr. Tracy offered an apology for his reference to her in his opening speech for the defense, she said:

"I shall accept no apology from you, sir."

"But," said Mr. Tracy, "I knew of you only from what I had read in the newspapers, and—"

"That will do, sir," interrupted Mrs. Woodhull, "I wish to hear no more. You grossly maligned me without cause, and I accept no apology."

Mr. Shearman was much excited. He had read the letters which Mrs. Woodhull had produced, and they rattled together in his hands. "These—won't—do," he said; "these—won't—do, Mrs. Woodhull."

"Very well, sir," said Mrs. Woodhull, "I am not to be the judge of that. They may not do for Mr. Beecher, but you were anxious to have them."

Mr. Shearman and Mr. Tracy requested permission to retain the letters for some time, and Mrs. Woodhull consented that they should. Mr. Shearman asked her to tell him the subject of her conversation with Mr. Beecher, when, according to her story, she and the preacher were alone together for three hours. Her reply was: "We didn't talk about the weather all that time."

WHO WILL DEVISE RELIEF.

The Chicago Tribune, in an editorial on the prospective advance of the grasshoppers across the Mississippi, says: "What is to be done is a question more easily asked than answered. Can not the grangers find its solution? They are the principal ones to be affected when this lively insect gets fairly across the Mississippi and commences his march of destruction and distress across their fertile prairies, with nothing to stay his onward course. They have little else to think about. Having made a mass of politics, they need not trouble themselves about campaigns. They can give their whole time to the grasshoppers and bring to bear upon them all their experience and ingenuity. Among all these thousands of sons and daughters of Ceres, somebody should have wit enough to contrive some method of destroying them. What is to be done, however, must be done quickly."

The vast army is headed this way. It costs nothing and travels fast. The buzzing of its wings will soon be heard all about us, and then in very truth he will be a burden, which must be borne with such equanimity and philosophy as can be summoned. It is evident that some antidote must be found, or else the victim must look out upon his broad acres stripped bare, and console himself with that thinnest of all consolations, that everything is created for some good purpose.

THE PROSPECT BECOMING ALARMING.

Chicago Distillers Arrested.

MORE ABOUT THE SILK RING FRAUDS.

Awful Tragedy in Nebraska.

THE VICE PRESIDENT IN LEAVENWORTH.

NEW YORK, May 18.—An officer of the Treasury Department is in this city under instructions of Secretary Bristow to examine into the records of the silk and lace importations of the last two years in connection with the developments brought out by the arrest of Lawrence. It is said that frauds have been discovered in the importation of crapes and mourning goods extending through the past two years, in the Appraiser's department of the Custom House in this city, and one of the examiners has resigned.

The examination of the books and accounts of the wholesale whisky dealers and retailers by the Treasury officials is going on here very thoroughly, but no irregularities have been found.

LIBERTY, Mo., May 18.—The grasshoppers in Clay county are more intolerable than the James boys. They are here in countless myriads, and their destructiveness is most alarming. In portions of Jackson county the grass has been so destroyed that the stock are dying from starvation. Cattle have to be driven away to find pasture. At Paola, Kansas, the citizens made a raid on them and killed a wagon load in the public square. At Garnett, Kansas, they were so numerous as to stop railroad trains. At Fort Scott, Kansas, they are reported to be dying rapidly. Their ravages spread over about three tiers of counties in western Missouri and eastern Kansas, embracing a strip of about one hundred and fifty miles. They leave desolation in their track. Business is almost paralyzed, and panic has seized the people.

CHICAGO, May 18.—Five proprietors of Chicago distilleries were to day arrested on criminal charges, and brought before U. S. Commissioner Haynes, and bound over in sums from $5,000 to $10,000 each, to appear to-morrow to answer the charges of having defrauded the Government.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 18.—A large meeting of citizens of Louisville was held at the Court house to-night, Governor Leslie presiding, to take action upon the death of General John C. Breckinridge. Another meeting was arranged for, and committees of Arrangements and Resolutions, to report then, were appointed.

ZANESVILLE, O., May 18.—The bodies of the women and children drowned on Sunday, have not yet been recovered. Great indignation is felt against Smith and Jackson for their cowardly actions towards their wives and children.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

In hardening and tempering steel, a clean charcoal, anthracite, or coked bituminous coal fire is required; such as is fit for taking a welding heat on iron is entirely unfit for hardening purposes. The sulphur contained in the coal combines with the steel to form sulphuret of iron, and ruins the texture.

When a cork gets pushed down into the neck of a bottle, insert a loop of strong twine and engage the cork in any direction most convenient. Then give a strong pull, and the cork will generally yield sufficiently to be withdrawn.

In case a finger ring becomes too tight to pass the joint of the finger, the finger should first be held in cold water to reduce any swelling or inflammation. Then wrap a rag soaked in hot water around the ring to expand the metal, and hastily soap the finger. A needle threaded with strong silk can then be passed between the ring and finger, and a person holding the two ends and pulling the silk, while sliding it around the periphery of the ring, will readily remove the latter. Another method is to pass a piece of sewing silk over the ring, and wind the thread in pretty close spirals and closely around the finger to the end—that below the ring—and begin unwinding.

A simple and usually successful mode of extracting a needle or any piece of steel or iron broken off in the flesh is accomplished by the application of a simple pocket magnet. An acquaintance of ours had a little daughter who recently broke a needle off in her hand. A surgeon, who made several efforts to find the needle by probing and incision, but without success. After the surgeon had left, the mother conceived the idea of trying a magnet; one was procured and after one or two applications of it, the broken fragments of needle were discovered attached to the magnet. This idea will be of especial utility to workers in iron. Machine shop surgery is not the most delicate nor least painful, though men heroically undergo it rather than stand the loss of time due to an inflamed eye or feasted finger. Iron drillers have a way of imbedding themselves in the eye, which defies almost every ordinary means for their extraction. For their removal, a small, blunt, pointed bar of steel, well magnetized, will be found excellent, and we should recommend that workmen liable to such injuries keep such an instrument about their person. It would be a good plan to insert such a bar in a penknife, in a manner suitable to a blade.

An easy method of breaking glass to any required form is by making a small notch, means for a file, on the edge of a piece of glass; then make the end of a tobacco pipe, or a rod of iron, about the same size, red hot in the fire, apply the red hot iron to the notch, and draw it slowly along the surface of the glass, in any direction you please; a crack will be made in the glass, and will follow the direction of the iron. Round glass bottles and flasks may be cut in the middle, by wrapping round them a worsted thread, dipped in spirits of turpentine, and setting it on fire, when fastened on the glass.—Scientific American.

Ball for the benefit of the Hook and Ladder Co. this evening.
Two weeks more of school and then comes summer vacation.
Corn at Niedermeyers at 70 cents per bushel.
Fred Smith claims to be the champion mathematician of Decatur.
Corn planting will be finished up this week, except some pieces of low land.
The St. Nicholas bus responds promptly to all orders by day or night.
Several streets are being extended and some new ones opened in the western part of the city.
It is now fully settled that there will be no apples of any account in this part of the State this year.
Superior canned fruits at Newell & Hammer's.
Roads in the country are yet rough, making buggy riding anything but agreeable outside of the city limits.
The members of the Star base ball club have all purchased University caps, which they wear on all occasions.
For choice syrups, go to Lewis & Milligan's.
Farmers are highly tickled with this kind of weather, but the sudden changes of the last few weeks admonish them to rejoice with trembling.
Dr. Brandom's new house, on East William street, is rapidly approaching completion, and when finished it will be one of the finest dwellings on the street.
J. J. Davis & Co. have a very fine lot of chromes and steel engravings, either with or without frames.
Many people who have read Bauman's announcement that he was not coming until June, are beginning to question whether he is coming then or not.
Several of our citizens are putting on style in the shape of new buggies. We don't object to this, provided they give us a turn about town on some pleasant evening.
Best painters' stock, at W. C. Armstrong's.
A young blood of this city got gloriously drunk last night and raised hell generally for some time in his neighborhood. He was subsequently arrested and thrust for his outrageous conduct.
Mr. Thatcher's new buildings, on North Water street, are rapidly approaching completion, and will soon be ready for occupation. Dr. S. D. Black will have his office in one of them when it is completed.
Bread baked from white wheat flour, at B. F. Stephens'.

It is predicted by many that Kansas grasshoppers will cross the Mississippi river this year or next, and that Illinois is likely to be scourged by them within the next two or three years as badly as Kansas, and Missouri have been for the last two years.
The tide of emigration is setting south. The fertile lands of Alabama and Mississippi are being gradually settled and cultivated by thrifty farmers from the North. We have it on good authority that a large proportion of the emigrants who pass through this city go south, instead of west, as we usually suppose.
A few snarling dogs that are in the habit of showing their teeth and barking at passers-by, will be likely to get a dose of cold lead if they don't attend to their own and their master's business.
Pecable pedestrians don't like to be annoyed by snarling curs as they pass along the walks.
Choice butter and fresh eggs, at H. F. May & Bro's.
Yesterday afternoon scores of country women passing Goldstein's saloon, and hearing the organ play, concluded to interview that "music-box." At one time the bar was crowded by these women, who avowed that the sweet dulcet notes from that organ was better music than they had ever heard from a band.
A verdant looking pair were seen yesterday on the streets inquiring for the county clerk, and ascertaining that official, tried vainly to get a marriage license. They were both underage, and were therefore refused. The couple was about to leave town disappointed, when some friend kindly suggested that they go to St. Louis and get the knot tied. This just suited the young man. He exclaimed, "Guessed it the first time," and clapping his betrothed's hand under his arm, he left rather suddenly for the depot. He returned last night, his countenance all wreathed with smiles, saying the knot had been tied, and he and his wife were happy.

Funeral services.—The funeral services of the late Nathan Durfee, will take place on Thurs afternoon at 2 o'clock, from his late residence on North Water street, Rev. W. W. De Wolfe officiating. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

MARRIED.

By the Rev. Frederick Henzlig, on May 17th, Mr. HENRY E. FISHER and Miss SADIE NEUBERGER.
On Saturday, May 15, by the Rev. P. C. Carroll, Mr. WILLIAM H. CULBERTSON and Miss MARY E. LITZEL.

A Good Plan.—The idea of draining the business part of town east of Main street in the creek which passes Priest's mill is thought to be entirely feasible, at a comparatively small expense. The business portion of town, west of Main street, could be drained into the hollow just west of Church street, with equal facility, by sewers emptying into it, at the point where it crosses Wood street, or at some other convenient place. The time for doing such work is in summer, when the ground is dry and the days are long. We have several times spoken of this matter of drainage, and feel like keeping it before the people, with the hope that the present season may witness some action in the matter.
The owners of business buildings must certainly be interested in any plan of sewerage that will relieve them from the trouble and labor of pumping out their cellars after every heavy rain that falls. If anything is done somebody must take the initiative, and it seems to us that the parties to do this are those who suffer most from flooded cellars. Who steps to the front?

Grand Concert.—The Decatur Choral Society is to give an entertainment at the opera house on Thursday evening of next week. The programme for the occasion consisting of songs, solos, duets, quartettes and choruses, will be one of the most entertaining ever presented to a Decatur audience. Our people should make it a point to patronize this entertainment, it being the product of home talent. Let the house be crowded up stairs and down.

Fresh Arrival of New Furniture.—Call and see the latest styles, at Ashby's. May 15-16

Strawberry Festival.—The ladies of the Catholic Church will give a Strawberry Festival at the opera house on Wednesday evening, May 20th, at which there will be an abundance of ice cream, cake, strawberries and other refreshments. This being the first occasion of the kind this season there will be a large attendance. Admission 10 cents. 18-19

Texas Land Warrants for sale in quantities to suit, at the low price of 35 cents per acre, some of the best agricultural, grazing and mining lands in the United States. Call at our office and get maps, documents and explanations before buying. H. B. Durfee will leave for Texas in May, and give his personal attention to locating these lands if desired.

WARREN & DUFFEE, Agents for the sale of Texas lands and warrants.

Yankee Robinson and his Show.—Promptly on time the veteran showman made his appearance on our streets yesterday, at the head of his immense hippodrome. Hundreds of people were out to witness the grand pageant as it filed through the principal thoroughfares of our city. In the afternoon a fair crowd gathered under the immense canvas, where the show was given, and in the evening there was a perfect jam. The programme indicated in the bills was carried out to the letter, even to the wonderful feat of discharging a live man from a cannon. All hands voted the "Old Yankee" and his show a big success.

Shirt Waists for ladies handsomely made up, and sold very cheap, at 18-19-20 Goldburg's.

Pleasant Social Gathering.—On last evening about fifty of the parliamentarians and friends of Rev. Horace Reed gathered at his residence on West Prairie-st., for the purpose of spending a short time in friendly social intercourse with the family, and particularly to express their best wishes for a pleasant journey and safe return to Mrs. Reed, who, it was understood, was about to leave for a few weeks absence visiting friends in Ohio. The evening passed very pleasantly to all present. Mrs. R. leaves to-morrow at noon, and expects to be absent about one month.

A Splendid Rig.—"Gus" Hardy's new span of blacks, hitched to his splendid new hack, perambulated the streets yesterday. It is one of the finest turnouts in the city.

Ties and Ruchers, Fancy Goods and Notions, cheaper at Goldburg's than any other place in town. 18-19-20

Temperance Lecture.—On Monday evening next Dr. R. N. Davies, of Paris, will lecture on Temperance, at the court house. Dr. Davies is a profound thinker and an eloquent speaker, and as a controversialist, has probably no superior in the State. In procuring his services to lecture on Temperance, the friends of the cause have done a good thing for their side of the question, as it would be difficult for them to find a more able advocate and champion. Now, then, that they are to have a lecture from a man who is capable of doing honor to any cause he may espouse, we hope a special effort will be made to give him a full hearing.

The Dramatic Event of the season will be the appearance of Mrs. Landet at the opera house, on Tuesday evening of next week, in the beautiful and touching drama of "Maria Antoinette." Those who saw Mrs. L. on the occasion of her former visit to this city, will be sure to witness her splendid acting in this very popular play. We predict for her a crowded house.

Funeral services.—The funeral services of the late Nathan Durfee, will take place on Thurs afternoon at 2 o'clock, from his late residence on North Water street, Rev. W. W. De Wolfe officiating. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

GOLD, GOLD—SILVER, SILVER.

Taste, Elegance and Merit.

Improvement seems to be the order of the day, not in any one department of business alone, but in all branches of industry. We have heretofore spoken of the new firm of Curtis & Righter, successors to S. D. Lilloston in the jewelry trade, but the changes and additions they have made in their store deserve more than a passing notice. They have remodeled their whole store, until it now looks like a real metropolitan establishment. Calculating and papering, wainscoting and painting, have added vastly to the general appearance of the room, and fully prepared it to be the receptacle for the new furniture and stock which the enterprising proprietors have just opened for the inspection of the public.

Most noticeable among all the improvements at this store, however, are the two large and elegant wall cases which have just been put up. These were made at the furniture factory of Lintner & Co., which fact alone is sufficient evidence of their beauty of design and finish. The cases are of walnut, and are exceedingly rich in appearance. One is designed for silverware, and the other for clocks. In addition to these are three large show cases on the counter, with sides and tops of French plate glass. These are for watches, jewelry, etc. A new fire and burglar proof safe is another of the additions recently made by the firm. This safe is a perfect triumph of art, having been made especially for jewelers' use. Its burglar-proof compartments are absolutely perfect, and persons who leave valuable watches or jewelry for repair at this establishment can rest assured that they will be kept "where thieves cannot break through and steal."

The proprietors, realizing how important the clock department of their business has become, have prepared themselves most admirably for this branch of their trade. The rear portion of their store has been fitted up for clocks exclusively, and here in appropriate cases may be found all styles and brands of this indispensable article, from the best and most expensive Seth Thomas to the cheapest.

But all this refitting and refurnishing must only be regarded as the mere adjuncts of their establishment, its real merit, after all, lies in the superb stock of goods kept by the proprietors. Watches of all grades, jewelry to suit every taste and pocket, silverware from very best manufacturers, and everything that can be found in a first class jewelry store may be procured here, at as low prices as can be afforded anywhere. The proprietors too, are both practical workmen, and all repairing, engraving, etc., entrusted to them will receive their personal attention. In the line of engraving they offer special inducements to the public, as also in all kinds of repairing.

Go and see their store and goods.

Painful Accident.—Yesterday Lewis White, a young son of "Erin," about 12 years of age, was noticed to jump on and off the switch engine of the Illinois Central Railway Co., disregarding the admonitions of the engineer. At last White attempted to jump on the locomotive when it was going at a fast rate, he missed his footing, fell, and the wheels of the engine passed over one of his feet, crushing it terribly. The little fellow fell back as if he had been killed, and was carried to his parents' home east of the depot, crying bitterly. Drs. Chenoweth and McMillin were called, and on examination they found that the bones of his foot were crushed, and therefore amputation was necessary. The foot was cut off just above the ankle, and the little fellow is now doing well. It will get over the efforts of this accident, but it will be a very severe lesson to him.

A Sad Sight.—Yesterday morning, as the procession of Yankee Robinson's Show was passing on East Main street, and countrymen were clapping their hands in glee at the novelties they were seeing, the two blind fiddlers raised their heads, and looked as if they would give their life for their eyesight again. Many benevolently disposed people on noticing this dropped dimes and nickles in the box, and soon revived the blind fiddlers, who immediately commenced saving away at a lively rate.

The Grand Excursion of the Season takes place to-morrow. Everybody should get tickets to-day. Arrangements are all completed, and they are on a grand scale. To Chicago and return, for the small sum of $4.00. Nobody should miss the opportunity. Come, everybody, and go along.

Excursionists can take the train at the Paris or Union depot at 7 o'clock sharp.

Soldiers En Route for the West.—On Monday about two o'clock in the afternoon, a special train passed through the city over the T. & W. V. R'y., having on board Company E, of the Seventh Regiment U. S. Cavalry. The company was made up of a very fine looking set of men. They supposed their destination to be Dakota Territory, and were from the scene of disturbances in Alabama.

The Firemen's Parade and Review is in progress as we go to press. The streets are full of people, and the display is exceedingly fine. The boys have the bearing of veterans, and are doing themselves honor. The doings of the day are to be supplemented by a grand ball, by the Hook and Ladder Co., at Brennenman's hall this evening, which promises to be a grand affair.

Ladies' Suits.—A large stock on hand and sold very cheap, at Goldburg's.
A New Orchestra.—Mr. Julius Goldstein received yesterday from New York a new orchestra, to take the place of the one now at his saloon, which he recently sold to Mr. Granville Lowther, of Clampaniga. The new "organ," though a trifle smaller than the old one, is made after the same style, and will make just as good music. It was thought, some time ago, that when that famous "organ" was sold, it was not to be replaced by another one, and this was a cause of great sorrow to many a heart-broken lover of that kind of music. The news that the loss is to be replaced will bring joy to many.

Boards Wanted.—A number of boarders can be accommodated with pleasant room and good board, at No. 44 South Main street.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Ex-Mayor Priest has just returned from a three weeks' tour through Texas. He speaks in very favorable terms of the country, and thinks that every man without a farm should locate land at once, which he can do for almost nothing.
Elder John W. Tyler is out on his crutches. He manages to get around a good deal in a day, and his irrepressible humor still occasionally is the cause of great merriment among all those in whose society he moves. He is as entertaining and witty as he was before the accident which befell him not long since.

Among the guests registered at the St. Nicholas Hotel yesterday are the following:
W. W. O'Brien, St. Louis; A. H. Loose, Illinois; Jerry Hopper, Adrian, Mich.; A. M. Johnson, Chicago; Albert Emerson, Monticello; J. F. Hamilton, Springfield, O.; H. G. Ellis, do; C. G. Mac, Mattoon; C. H. Brown, do; J. Shackelford, New York; W. F. Kirk, Chicago; J. F. Smith, do; J. F. Older, New York; John H. Ellisbury, Murdock, Ill.; J. V. Lulliey, Wapella; W. S. Roberts, do; C. F. Lewis, Blue Mount; H. A. Bell, Cincinnati; F. O. Rugg, Milwaukee; Dr. A. J. Dexter, Ben Warwick and A. Goldsmith, St. Louis; W. E. Wilson, Mattoon; D. H. Scott, La Place, Ill.; E. E. McClure, St. Louis; B. J. Forbes, Chicago; C. B. Prescott, city; F. Taylor, Warrensburg; Charles Allen, Sullivan; Robert Handolph, Cushman, Ill.

POLICE NEWS.

INTOXICATION.
Patrick O'Connor went to the show yesterday, and in the evening got so much of the "ardent" aboard that his limbs gave way, and he found that he could no longer navigate. He was picked up by Deputy Marshal Howes in a state of hopeless intoxication. After a night's repose in our calaboose O'Connor was taken before Justice Hughes, when he paid a fine of $3.00 and costs, and went on his way rejoicing.
George Washington Gates came all the way from Sangamon county yesterday for the purpose of seeing the show and getting on a spree. He got more whiskey than he could hold, and was "jugged" last night. This morning he paid over to Squire Hughes $5.00—the amount of a fine of $3.00 and costs which was assessed against him for his violation of the city ordinance.

Token of Respect.—This forenoon Mrs. H. P. Christie sent to the headquarters of Rescue Hose Co. No. 1, a beautiful bouquet of flowers, to which was attached a card with the following inscription: "Not so much for your show on parade as for your faithful services." The bouquet appears on the new hose carriage in the procession this afternoon.
Bargains for Thirty Days, at Litsinger & Sutton's. Chromes and all kinds of pictures, baskets, and many fancy goods at cost. Picture frames, brackets, albums, &c., at greatly reduced prices. Object to reduce our stock before the season of dust and flies. No. 17 East Main street. 10-14-15

THANKS "FROM THE DEPTHS OF THE HEART."

WELLINGTON, Lorain co., Ohio, 7 R. V. French, August 24, 1874.
Dear Sir:—Your medicines, Golden Medical Discovery, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, have proved of the greatest service to me. Six months ago no one thought that I could possibly live long. I had a complication of diseases, sciatica, mania, hysterical epilepsy, and great bleeds on my head, that made such sores that I could not have my hair combed without causing me much suffering; also causing swollen glands, tonsils enlarged, enlarged or "thick neck," and large and numerous boils. I also suffered from a very bad chronic catarrh, and in fact I was so diseased that life was a burden to me. I had tried many doctors with no benefit. I finally procured one-half dozen bottles of your Golden Medical Discovery and one dozen Sage's Catarrh Remedy and commenced their use. At first I was badly discouraged, but after taking four bottles of the Discovery I began to improve, and when I had taken the remaining I was well. In addition to the use of Discovery I applied a solution of iodine to the goitre or thick neck, as you advise in pamphlet wrapping, and it entirely disappeared. Your Discovery is certainly the most wonderful blood medicine ever invented. I thank God and you from the depths of my heart, for the great good it has done me.
Very gratefully,
Miss L. CHAFFEE.

Most medicines which are advertised as blood purifiers and liver medicines contain either mercury, in some form, or potassium and iodine variously combined. All of these agents have strong tendency to break down the blood corpuscles, and debilitate and otherwise permanently injure the human system, and should therefore be discarded. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, on the other hand, being composed of the fluid extracts of native plants, barks and roots, will in no case produce injury, its effects being strengthening and curative only. Sarsaparilla, which used to enjoy quite a reputation as a blood purifier, is a remedy of thirty years ago, and may well give place as it is doing, to the more positive and valuable vegetable alternatives which later medical investigation and discovery have brought to light. In Scrofula or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammation, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin and Sore Eyes, as in all other blood diseases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has shown its great remedial powers, curing the most obstinate and intractable cases. Sold by all dealers in medicine.
